Biographical Note

Joseph A. Doorley, Jr. (1930- ) served as the Mayor of Providence from 1965-1974.

Joseph A. Doorley, Jr. was born October 12, 1930 in Providence, Rhode Island. "Joe" Doorley attended LaSalle Academy in Providence, Rhode Island. After graduating from LaSalle Academy, Doorley enrolled in the University of Notre Dame, earning a Bachelor of Arts degree and graduating "cum laude" in 1953. He then went on to receive his law degree from Boston College Law School.

In 1960, interest in politics led to a seat on the Providence Democratic City Committee. By 1964, he was elected to the Providence City Council, serving from January 5, 1963 through January 5, 1965. With the rise of the powerful Providence Democratic machine, 1936-1974, a corrupt system defined as cronyism, a promise of jobs and services for votes, and with their support, Joseph A. Doorley, Jr. ran on the Democratic ticket for Mayor of Providence in 1965. He won the election and became the youngest mayor in the city's history.

During Doorley's tenure as Mayor, Providence became one of the first cities to sign up for the federal Model Cities Program, with an emphasis on urban renewal. Model Cities Program was an element of President Lyndon Johnson's Great Society and War on Poverty, a five-year long experiment developed for new antipoverty programs. The city also saw a decrease in population as residents moved to the suburbs, contributing to an economic decline. Fair housing issues, school desegregation and an era of civil unrest "marked his terms in office." Joseph A. Doorley, Jr. held the office of Mayor of Providence, until his loss to Vincent A. "Buddy" Cianci, Jr. in 1974.

Scope and Content

The collection is primarily comprised of correspondence, newspaper clippings, and financial reports documenting Joseph A. Doorley's political life as Mayor of Providence, Rhode Island from 1965 through 1974. Included in the Doorley Collection is a significant amount of newspaper clippings and correspondence pertaining to the Civic Center. Documents from the Model City Program, in conjunction with the newly formed government office of Department of Housing and Urban Development, as well as material on school integration all provide insight into Joseph Doorley's terms of office.

Additionally, on the national level, contents include materials, brochures, and correspondence from the Democratic National Committee and the Democratic National Convention, August 26-29, 1968 in Chicago, Illinois. There is also a limited amount of personal items of correspondence, congratulatory cards, and photographs. Doorley's papers are arranged in alphabetical subject order.

Provenance:

The Joseph A. Doorley, Jr. Papers were donated to Providence College in January 1971.

Processing Note:

This collection was rehoused in archival boxes when initially received and is not fully processed. It is unclear from collection documentation if early archives staff reorganized the collection into the alphabetical subject lists or if that was the original order of Doorley's papers.

DRAFT Inventory:

This box list includes is a working draft.
